

Temperature sensor in the apartment

The association's apartments are equipped with wireless temperature meters from EcoGuard. These were installed in the spring of 2019, small white cans on the wall in the hall or adjacent to the hall.

Through them, we can make individual measurements of the indoor temperature. This allows us to collect data and quickly troubleshoot problems with the indoor climate. It has become an important tool in our maintenance work and is part of the energy efficiency that takes place in our properties.

This is a reminder of the reason given, as donors have been taken down during renovations!

The temperature sensors must not be removed, if these are affected during a planned renovation, the property manager must be contacted for proper removal. If the owner of the residence takes down the meter, the cost of a new meter will be invoiced to the member.
